South Suburban Parks and Recreation Receives

Distinguished Budget Presentation Award for 4th Consecutive Year

For the fourth consecutive year, South Suburban Park and Recreation District has been recognized nationally for outstanding governmental budgeting by the Government Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada (GFOA), a nonprofit professional association serving more than 17,400 government finance professionals throughout North America.

South Suburban received the Distinguished Budget Presentation Award for its 2013 budget from the GFOA. South Suburban's Finance Director Steve Shipley and staff CPA Linda Addison were recognized for their skills in budget presentation.

The award reflects South Suburban's commitment to ensuring its budget serves as a policy document, a financial plan, an operations guide and a communication device. To view South Suburban's budget, visit www.sspr.org and click the About Us and Audit & Budgets icon.

South Suburban Park and Recreation District, founded in 1959, serves nearly 140,000 residents through its comprehensive network of parks, trails, open space and recreational facilities and programs.
